TWENTY-FIRST REPORT

OF

THE ROYAL UNIVERSITY OF IRELAND.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY WILLIAM HUMBLE, EARL OF DUDLEY,
&c., &c.,
LORD LIEUTENANT-GENERAL AND GENERAL GOVERNOR OF IRELAND.

THE ROYAL UNIVERSITY OF IRELAND,
17th April, 1903.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY,

I have the honour to submit the Annual Report on the condition and progress of the University.

The total number of persons who entered for the various Academical Examinations of the University during the year 1902, was 2,894; while in the previous year it was 2,781.

The Appendixes to this Report contain Tables giving all important details connected with the Examinations held in 1902, for both male and female candidates. A Table is also given showing the Academic progress, in the various Faculties, made by Students matriculated in 1881 to 1901, inclusive.

There were three public meetings of the University in 1902. The first two were of a formal character, and were held on the 15th day of May and the 24th day of July, respectively, mainly for the purposes of conferring degrees on the candidates who had qualified therefor at the Medical Examinations held in the Spring, and at the Arts, Law and Engineering Examinations held in the Summer.

The third meeting of the University was held on the 31st day of October, to confer degrees on the Candidates who qualified therefor at the Autumn Examinations, and to declare the distinctions obtained by Candidates at the Honour Examinations. Details of proceedings at this meeting are given in Appendix II.

In conformity with the provisions of the Act of Parliament, 44 and 45 Vic., chap. 52, the accounts of the receipts and expenditure of the University, with the corresponding vouchers and other documents, are rendered quarterly to the Comptroller and Auditor-General, who submits an annual report and abstract to Parliament.

I have the honour to be

Your Excellency's faithful and obedient servant,

(Signed), MEATH,
Chancellor.

APPENDIX II.

TWENTY-FIRST ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ROYAL UNIVERSITY OF IRELAND.

OCTOBER 31, 1902.

The Twenty-first Annual Meeting of the University was held on October 31, 1902.

DR. ALLMAN, the Pro-Vice-Chancellor, opened the proceedings with the following address:—

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—

In consequence of the existing vacancies in the offices of Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor of this University, it has become my duty to address you on the present occasion. Our proceedings usually commence in a melancholy strain, the first subject introduced by the occupant of this chair being the losses of members of our body sustained during the preceding year. In some previous years there were several—even many—such losses to be deplored. This year we suffered only one, but that a most grievous one, in the death of our Chancellor, the Marquis of Dufferin and Ava. No man of his time was more distinguished for his public services. He was Ambassador successively to the Emperor of Russia, the Sultan of Turkey, the King of Italy, and the French Republic, and in every seat of government which he visited officially he was held in the highest admiration and esteem. He was governor of two of the most important dependencies of the British Crown, and in each of these offices he was eminently successful. Wherever he went he attracted to himself universal affection and regard by his sympathetic character and his urbanity of manner. It is interesting to observe that the gifted partner of his life has left us permanent records of the happy years they passed amongst the populations of Canada and India. His remarkable literary talents and attainments were recognised by the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge, Dublin, Harvard, and the Punjab. His graceful and impressive eloquence was everywhere appreciated, and in this place on many recent occasions we were charmed with his expression of elevated and tender sentiments in appropriate and beautiful language. Of the earnest practical interest which he showed in the work of this University we shall always retain a grateful recollection. On every ground we must be proud of him as a countryman and reflect with sorrow that another great Irishman is gone.

Coming now to the special business of this meeting, I have to announce that the Senate have resolved to confer the degree of Doctor in Literature upon Professor Edouard Cadic. M. Cadic is well known to many among you. He has been engaged in educational work in Ireland for more than twenty years, with very remarkable success, showing himself at once an accomplished scholar and a brilliant teacher. He was selected Fellow of the University in 1894. The high reputation in which M. Cadic is held by his countrymen in France is evidenced by the fact that he has been made successively Officier d'Academie, Officier de l'Instruction publique, and, in 1900, Chevalier de la Legion d'Honneur, the last an honour very rarely conferred upon Frenchmen not residing at home, and given only to mark the sense of his countrymen that the recipient has held high the national honour; and I have no doubt that the University will find M. Cadie as zealous for her fair fame as he has been for that of the great nation of which he is a distinguished son.

The following Studentships (£100 a year for three years) were awarded at the late examinations:—(I.) for Modern Literature, which has been won by Miss Norah L. Scott, B.A., a pupil of the Alexandra College, Dublin; (II.) for Mental Science, which has been won by William Corkey, M.A., who went through his course in Magee College, Londonderry, and Queen's College, Belfast; (III.) for Mathematical Science, by George R. Thompson, B.A., B.Sc., of Sidney Sussex College, Cambridge.

I now come to what may be termed the "blue ribbon" of the University—namely, the Junior Fellowships (£200 a year for four years). They have been awarded in the subjects of Mental Science and of Mathematical Science. The award in the former was made to Patrick J. Boylan, M.A., Holy Cross College, Clonliffe, and in the latter to Thomas Stuart, M.A., D.Sc., of Queen's College, Galway, and St. John's College, Cambridge. It will be part of the duties of these gentlemen to take part in conducting the University examinations, and in the name of the Senate I bid them welcome to the ranks of our Fellows. Of Dr. Stuart I can speak from personal knowledge. He was a pupil of mine in Queen's College, Galway. I was much impressed by his originality, and I formed very favourable expectations of his future career. I am glad to be able to announce that both the University Gold Medal for English Verse and the Chancellor's Gold Medal for English Prose have been awarded this year. The University Gold Medal for English Verse has been awarded to William Byrne, a former winner of this medal, and already known as the writer of published poems of much merit, and the Chancellor's Gold Medal for English Prose was carried off from all competitors by a lady, Miss Mary Elizabeth Byrne, B.A. Lastly, I have to announce the result of the competition for the Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Browne Gold Medal and Prize, held for the first time on this occasion. Here, too, the first places have been gained in open competition by ladies, the Gold Medal by Miss Cecilia L. M. Steinberger, Sch. of Queen's College, Galway, and the Prize by Miss Elizabeth M. J. Anderson, Loreto College, St. Stephen's-green, Dublin. It will be seen that in the field of Modern Literature the ladies still reign pre-eminent, and I direct attention to this fact for the double purpose of congratulating the ladies on their successes, and of stimulating their competitors of the sterner sex to further effort.

With respect to the value attached to the degrees of this University, I would observe that the General Medical Council's report on the M.B., B.Ch., B.A.O. Degrees Examination of October, 1901, is one of the most favourable reports ever made on any examination. In his speech before the General Medical Council, when the report was under consideration, the Visitor, Dr. M'Vail, said:—"As a visitor he regarded the work he had done with great pleasure. It was one of the most admirable examinations he had any knowledge of, and in every respect was most thorough, even, and fairly conducted. He could not conceive an examination more efficiently conducted, both in the interests of the University, the students, and of the public. Any man who got the diploma of the Royal University was certainly a man who had been effectually taught and examined."

We frequently receive accounts of great successes achieved both at home and abroad by our graduates. A notable example during the past year has been the case of an Honour Medical graduate, who was appointed a few months ago to the position of Chief Medical Officer of Health in Johannesburg, South Africa. Within the last few days it has been announced that Sir Antony Patrick MacDonnell, G.C.S.I., who had already filled several highly distinguished administrative positions in India, including that of Lieutenant-Governor of the North-West Provinces, has been appointed Under-Secretary for Ireland. Sir Antony received his education in Queen's College, Galway, and holds the degrees of M.A. and D.Lit. Honoris Causa of this University.

Sir James Creed Meredith, one of the Secretaries of the University, then read the list of successful candidates for Degrees, and the persons named were presented by Dr. Joseph M'Grath, the other Secretary, to the Pro-Vice-Chancellor, who admitted them to their respective Degrees.

D.LIT., Honoris Causa.
